Teacher Appreciation

For Teacher Appreciation Week, Sunrise Elementary PTA made a sign that said, “Thanks for Helping Us Soar.” (They are Sunrise Eagles.) They hung the sign in front of the school. They also created smaller signs for each teacher and staff member and placed them near the larger sign. Students then came by with painted rocks and pinwheels and flowers to place by the names throughout the week. At the end of the week, teachers and other staff members came by and picked up their painted rocks.

Strategy

Although they were not able to enter the school building, the Sunrise Elementary PTA made good use of it as a central location to celebrate Teacher Appreciation Week. Their set up demonstrated that a school is more than a building, it’s a caring community that finds ways to support each other through even the most trying of circumstances.
