PTA & School Engagement

Active PTSA member at Fall City Elementary School and school district volunteer, supporting student enrichment programs, arts participation, and family–school partnership initiatives. Participated in programs such as Reflections and supported student participation in regional arts initiatives, including exhibitions at the Seattle Climate Innovation Hub.

Family & Education Perspective

Parent of two students in the Snoqualmie Valley School District. My family has experienced transitions across international and U.S. public school systems, providing a deep appreciation for supporting students through different educational environments and stages of learning.

Education Advocacy

Children’s book author through Amazon KDP, publishing early learning books focused on literacy, creativity, and confidence-building. Passionate about supporting early childhood development, curiosity-driven learning, and lifelong education.

Professional & Leadership Strengths

Professionally trained in technology and analytics, with higher education completed in the United States following foundational education in China. Brings strengths in thoughtful evaluation, collaborative decision-making, and supporting transparent leadership selection processes.

Community & Cultural Perspective

Member of a multicultural family rooted in Washington State, spanning Chinese and Mexican cultural backgrounds. Our extended family includes children across multiple schools and educators working within Washington communities. These lived experiences strengthen my commitment to inclusive representation and ensuring diverse family voices are reflected in education leadership.

Commitment

Dedicated to supporting the Washington State PTA mission by helping identify leaders who reflect and serve all children and families across Washington.
